vestigation.

No matter what District Attorney Swann's plans may be regarding the further investigation into his charges that the recent strike of the Interough Rapid Transit trainmen was the result of collusion between their union and the officials of the company to further the cause of increased fares, the present Extraordinary Grand Jury intends going into the matter when it reconvenes Tuesday.

Raymond F. Aimiral, foreman of the Grand Jury, said so last night. He insisted that Mr. Swann was in error in assuming that such were the business affiliations of any member of the Grand affiliations of any member of the Grand Jury that the body could not look for a presentation of what evidence he has Mr. Almiral asserted that it was a wholly competent and unbiased body clothed with powers to investigate and that it would investigate.

He denied that Mr. Swann said in open court that there of the investigate was

On the other hand, Mr. Swann said at his home that he was "through" with his investigations into traction matters and milk as well. He said that whatever investigation the Extraordinary Grand Jury made would be made by the Grand Jury alone. He would question witnesses, he said, but not call them unless requested to by the jurymen and named by the jurymen.

Gov. Smith said that he had not been sked to take a hand yet and that he did not know what his course would be Einstein represents as unselfish and as high class citizenship as any mem as high class citizenship as any mem-ber of the extraordinary Grand Jury. Both motions and the pronouncement were formulated by me in an endeavor to express the unanimous sense of the members of the Grand Jury. Obviously it is the object of the motion to cause prompt determination of the charge of compiracy against the union and the company.

This Grand Jury does not desire to "This Grand Jury does not desire to throw any reflections upon the District Attorney's office. However, it does desire to proceed as it sees fit and to determine fairly and without prejudice or favor all matters that come before it, and it believes that for the reasons presented in open court that its duty can best be accomplished in that manner. Mr. Swann did not in open court say that three members of this Grand Jury are Interborough bondholders. The newsare Interborough bondholders. The news so saying is in error.

Swann Is Out of It.

"As far as the investigations of the raction and milk situations are con-cerned," said District Attorney Swann last night, "I'm through.
